GENERATION
NO ONE SHOULD BE LEFT BEHIND

It's not easy growing up in New Zealand today. And for some young people achieving their NCEA qualifications is impossible due to a range of circumstances that get in the way of their learning.

The Salvation Army, Variety – the Children's Charity and The Warehouse Group passionately believe in fostering the potential of every young person and are committed to helping ensure that no-one is left behind.

Kiwi Next Generation is a free two-year programme wrapping additional support around a Youth Guarantee curriculum for more than 700 young people who are struggling with their education. In addition to the 40 weeks of tuition provided by trained educators, Kiwi Next Generation students will benefit from:

- PERSONALISED MENTORING AND SUPPORT to identify and address family and personal learning barriers over one year, with occasional support in year two
- GROUP-BASED ACTIVITIES to provide new experiences, build confidence and strengthen relationships
- PRACTICAL SUPPORT in the form of care packs, meals, incentives and more substantial rewards to recognise and motivate success
- GRADUATION CELEBRATIONS for those successfully completing their Youth Guarantee programme, followed by goal setting and mentoring support for their second year of learning.

Kiwi Next Generation is delivered at the following Salvation Army Education and Employment training centres:

- Whangarei
- Auckland
- Tauranga
- Hamilton
- Whakatane
- Feilding
- Carterton
- Christchurch
